

I strongly object to the NAB's attempt to limit/censor what I hear on my paid subscription to XM Satellite Radio. Having traffic and weather available to travelers is a safety feature and obtaining this information from local stations is sometimes not possible. For example, last summer I was hiking in the mountains of Vermont, New Hampshire and Maine. For the most part, I was out of the range of local stations and my XM Radio enabled me to receive weather and avoid dangerous weather situations in those mountains. Recently I was heading to Orlando and the traffic report on my XM radio helped me to avoid an accident area. I pay for this subscription so why should I not be able to get innovative programs? After all, they are not pornographic. Do not permit the NAB's to limit what I hear. There has already been so much infringement on freedom of speech in this country that we do not need yet another attack from a self-serving group of whiners who object to some other agency providing a service they did not create for themselves.
